HISTORY OF THE MANSION HOUSE

Few of us realize that the Mansion House, rising so sedately above the beautiful campus, has looked down upon Dummer boys for more than six generations. Built by Lieutenant-Governor Dummer in 1718 as a summer home in aristocratic Byfield, it has gradually become the center of the group of buildings that make up this Academy. Ever since the Governor willed that the house and adjoining grounds should be used as the foundation for a boys' school, the Masters of the Academy have used the Mansion as their home during their stay here. Some of the boys were allowed to room in the upper regions of the building then as now. In the olden times this was an honor greatly sought after. Let us hope the present inhabitants realize their privilege.

The Mansion was in such need of repair in 1897 that it was necessary to make a complete renovation. It was desired to keep the original appearance of the house as much as was possible. Therefore the most skilled architects were engaged and so successful were their efforts that the Mansion House as we see it today is almost the identical Mansion House of Governor Dummer. Even the original bricks which were imported from England were retained in the foundations and are there to this day.

As a model of Colonial architecture the Mansion is a source of much interest especially to architects and artists. The front door is very curious. It is ornamented around the sides with bunches of grapes, hand-carved and very finely wrought. There is not another doorway just like it in the entire country to our knowledge.

Inside the building the same beauty of construction exists. The panelling in the lower rooms has caused much comment. These were so carefully copied when the house was renovated that they are exactly the same as the originals. Upon these panels hang the pictures of the Governor and his wife. These persons are as much a part of the house as the famous doorway and it is pleasant to imagine them moving about the large rooms, entertaining aristocratic colonists in knee-breeches and powdered wigs. Most of us are familiar with the noble visage of the Governor. One would never suspect when viewing Lady Dummer's plain countenance that she was the cause of a duel fought by two gentlemen upon the

DUMMER TRACK TEAM DEFEATS ST. JOHN'S PREP

Defeats have been handed Dummer academy so often of late in winter sports that it was a welcome relief yesterday afternoon to the followers of the school to have a triumph occur and over no less worthy opponent than St. John's Prep. The Danvers boys led all the way until Dummer came from behind, took the relay and won the track meet honors by a bare margin of two points, 30 1-2 to 28 -2. The events were staged as South Byfield.

It looked like another trimming when with two events over, the 20 yard dash and the 12 pound shot-put, the prep led 17 to one. Ferdinand, the fastest sprinter at Dummer, got a bad start in the short dash and lost out. However, the victors gathered in eight and a half points in the running high jump to St. John's half point.

The relay did not look good for Dummer as Kuki, one of the regular members of the quartet is laid up with the mumps, and could not run. Capron, took his place. The first academy youngster in this, Ferdinand, gained a big lead over McWeaney and this was maintained to a large extent by Hinds and Whalen over La Macar and Grace, respectively. Bray anchor man of the invaders, cut it down rapidly, but Capron had about 10 yards on him. The thrilling finish showed what fight will do. Ed. Walsh, Jr., won a second in the shot put for St. John's. The footballist put the pig pellett 33 ft. 9 1-2 inches, a trifle more than two inches further than Hinds of Dummer. In the 1000 Beatty, St. John's, nosed out Valentine, Dummer, for third by a hair.

Capt. Ingham, Hinds and Ferdinand excelled for Dummer; Bray, Brennan and Herlihy for St. John's. It was the first time in many years that Dummer had beaten St. John's Prep. in Track although the meets have been very close.

The runs were held on the outdoor track, the jump and shot put in the Lang gymnasium. Brother Stanislaus, track Coach, and Rev. Brother Gilbert accompanied the St. John's Prep team.

The summary:

1st heat won by Bray, St. John's, 2nd, Chasholm, St. John's. 2nd heat, won by Hinds, Dummer, 2nd, McWeaney, St. John's. Finals won by Bray, St. John's 2nd, Chisholm, St.

CHURCH SUPPER AND ENTERTAINMENT

On the evening of Friday, January 25th, the members of this noble institution availed themselves in large numbers of a chance to attend one of the famous Church suppers of the Byfield Congregational Church. The traditional repast of beans, cold meat, and pie was amply taken care of by the hungry Dummerites and then all ascended to the main room of the Chapel to witness the entertainment. This part of the affair was given entirely by the fellows and the way in which the acts were received was proof of the quality of the talent exhibited.

The Orchestra, composed of Messrs Whalen, Jackson, Flye, J. E. Morse, Casgrain, Fitzsimmons and Edson, played the opening chorus in the form of a popular Jazz piece. Several encores followed and then one of our distinguished Spanish members, Senior Ruiz, mounted the platform and delivered a most beautiful poem in his native tongue, a procedure which amused but did not enlighten the audience. Takano Kuki next appeared before the footlights and made a great hit by singing a little Japanese ditty about "The Turtle and the Rabbit." A piano solo by Larry Whalen preceded a Dutch dance and song by "Pinkie" Sloane and "Kenney" Bell, two of our younger element. After this clever act there was a brief intermission.

The big hit of the evening was a two act show by the newly formed and self-styled Dummer Dramatic club. "An A. B. C. Tragedy" was the title, but the Tragedy turned out to be a most amusing comedy. The leading female part was taken by Fitzsimmons, who made a most delightful damsel. Kenney and Jackson were the other two ladies and took their parts very well. The male parts were taken by Messrs. Carpenter, Terhune, and Ingham. Mrs. Ingham coached the actors and deserves a share of the credit for the success of the performance. The last act was a song by the Glee Club, composed of Capron, Albertson, Kenney, Cadigan, Ray and Boyd. The orchestra then struck up a jazz tune and dancing ensued for a short time.

THE MOVING FINGER

A few days ago school opened. Now the mid-year exams are gone, leaving behind their trail of sorrow and suffering. How many enthusiastic hopes and expectations have fallen by the wayside thus far. How much we were to do and still find undone.

Tomorrow, or the day after, is Commencement. The achievements of a year will be recorded. Under a few names will be a lengthy record of worth while accomplishment. Under others many more, the records will be brief and in large part disappointing. Under others the records will be quite bare—convincing testimony of wasted hours and opportunities, to lack of pride of school and respect of self.

There are studies to be pursued with grim tenacity. There is the Year Book to be completed successfully—to be made something every boy and master is eager and proud to have. There is Commencement to be made such a success as to bring those of the graduating class back year after year to watch critically the attempts of the rising generation. And finally, there are the College Board exams ahead which wait for no one.

All this we must do if, as individuals and as classes, we would have our record complete. All this we will do if we can but keep in mind the words of Omar Khayyam and give our craven spirits no peace.

"The Moving Finger writes; and hiving writ,

Moves on; nor all your Piety nor Wit
Shall lure it back to cancel half a Line,
Nor all your Tears wash out a Word
of it."

A MOVE FOR THE BETTER

The Archon takes great pleasure in announcing that there will be pictures shown frequently in the gymnasium during the coming months. On hearing of the poor results we were having with movies here, the kind donor of the machine made a special trip to Dummer one Saturday afternoon with an expert from Boston. After a few adjustments had been made, the machine was found to be in perfect running order. In the evening a show was put on that proved a great success. We wish to express our gratitude to the owner of the machine who took the time and trouble to come down here and arrange so that we might have movies during the ensuing weeks.

The Trustees have also been very kind in allowing us one film a week.

A silver sheet, purchased with money raised by the students, completes the outfit that is going to give Dummer boys much pleasure in the days to come.

OBSERVING LIBRARY RULES

Owing to the fact that our school library is necessarily used as a class room as well as a library and is kept open most of the time Mr. Faust and the Assistant librarians are having considerable difficulty in its management. Certain students violate rules by going in when the library is not officially open and taking out books without, of course, having them recorded at all. As long as this is done, there will be certain books always on the "lost" list. And since our books are so few and the required reading for English work is so great, it is necessary that the librarian know where every book is all the time.

Another rule which is violated by careless students is the failure to pay the assessment for over-drawn books when it is announced to them. As is the case in all libraries everywhere a small charge is made per day when a book is kept out overtime. In our library the charge is two cents a day. Students are supposed to know when they have had their books out two weeks and are expected then to return the book or have it renewed, or pay the fine that is due. It is too much to expect the librarian to hunt the students up and collect their money. This responsibility belongs to the students who have books out. The library is open each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evening from 7:00 to 9:00 P. M.

YEAR BOOK TO BE PUBLISHED THIS YEAR

At a recent meeting of the Senior class, the plans for a Year Book were discussed. The Seniors, under the direction of Mr. Faust, hope to put out the best Year Book on record. It will not be entirely a Senior class publication, as all the classes and the Alumni will be asked to contribute, either material or in a financial way. It is hoped that everyone will enter into this project and help make it a great success.

A committee on the Year Book has been elected. In order that you may know the members of the committee by their correct titles, we give the official capacity of each.

Business Managers — Ferdinand, Ingham and Terhune.

Editor—Leonard M. Fowle.

Art—William T. Carpenter.

Literary—Thomas MacLeod.

Assistant Literary—Neal Boyd.

Photography—Edmund Berry and Andrew Valentine.

Janitor—Ervin Randall Jackson, Esq. T. N. I. '24.

The Board is ambitious to put forth a good book this year and would welcome jokes, cartoons, etc., from any student in the school. The Board wishes to give the book a name and would like to have the whole school join in naming the publication as it will be used in succeeding years as a title for the year book. The Board meets every Thursday evening with Mr. Faust in the Moody House. The following will write the Class Histories for the Year Book.

THE YEAR BOOK CONTEST

Several boys of the school are manifesting great interest in the contest for the two short stories to be used in the Year Book this year as announced by McLeod in Chapel. The stories selected must be good interesting stories and may be written by any one in the school who wishes to enter the contest. Rules governing the contest are pasted on the bulletin board in the study hall. The first prize is $5.00 in gold, and the second is $2.50. Stories should be handed in to Mr. Faust or to McLeod, the Literary Editor of the Year Book, any time before March 15.

HISTORY OF THE

MANSION HOUSE

Campus in days gone by.

Many weird tales centre about the Mansion House and its former inhabitants. It is said that at midnight on the evening of the full moon in August the stately figure of Governor Dummer mounted upon a milk-white horse ascends the broad staircase of the House as though reviewing his old quarters. Upon reaching the third story the gallant steed turns and gallops noiselessly down and out the front door onto the lawn.

In the rear of the Mansion House away up under the eaves is a tiny attic. Here the Governor's African slaves were kept in confinement. Until a few years ago the chains, by which refractory servants were forced to stand up during the long night watches, might be seen. On windy nights the souls of the departed slaves were said to return and occupy again the chains which they clanked with ominous clamor.

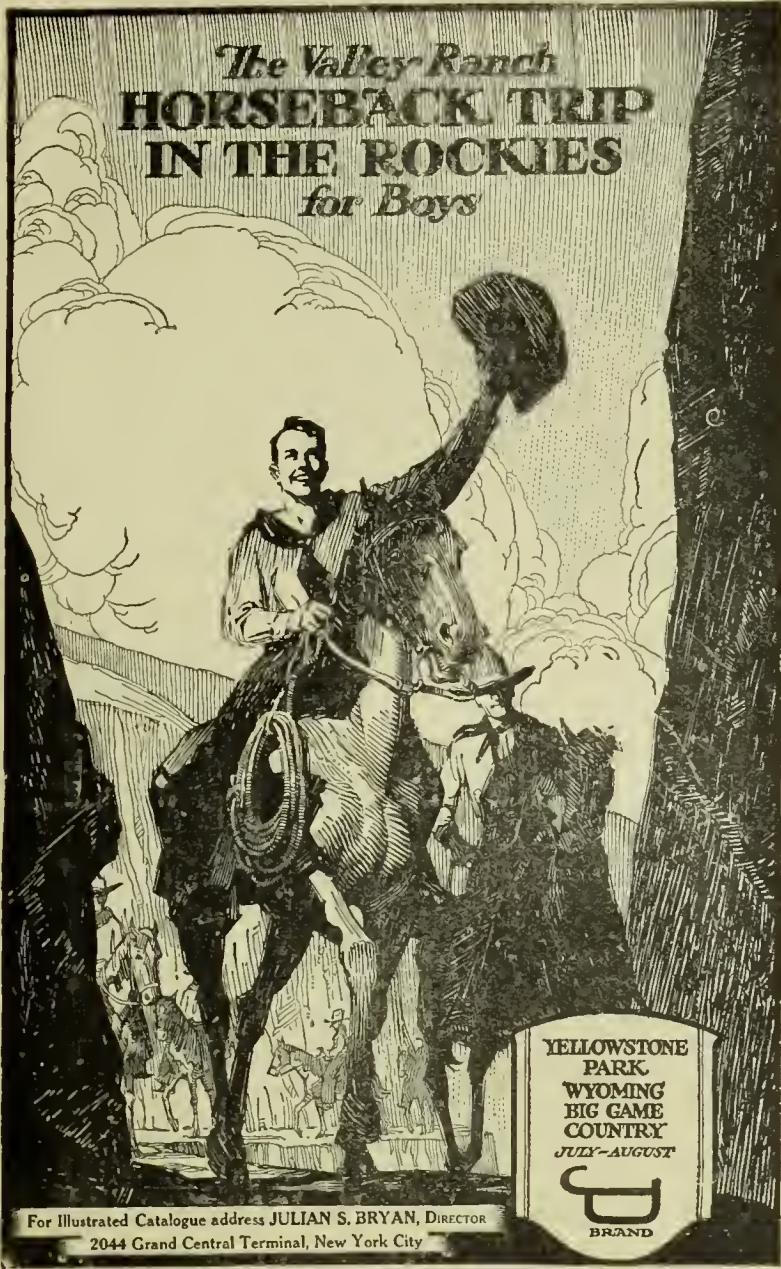

These are only a few of the many legends concerning the famous house. If any of you care to visit the Governor's Mansion in August and if you are clever enough, you may be able to halt the old fellow on his midnight jaunt and extract from him other tales about his ancient domicile.

THE DRAMATIC SOCIETY

Over night there has sprung up the much talked of, but little acted on, project. On that memorable night, which will go down in Dummer history as epoch-making, February 13th, in spite of superstitions leaning to the contrary, the Dummer Dramatic Society was formed. Seven of the students (seven's lucky, anyway) met and having chosen T. N. Ingham as president adjourned the first meeting. This club, if properly supported by the student body, will be a credit to the school. We need it.

GOING IN

The Commons - 7:14 A.M.

Every morning there is the same old song, "Going In". I usually hear it about ten minutes past seven o'clock. The chorus of the song is a false alarm, but the encore is the signal to rush down one flight of stairs, spray a few drops of water on my hair, comb my hair on the top landing, tie my necktie on the third step from the top, skip four or five more steps, tie my shoe laces on the middle landing, on the bottom step find out I have left my coat up two flights, start all over again, finally reach the dining room, and say my usual "Good Morning, Doctor Ingham" with all the complacency of never having rushed in all my life.

"Going In" is a couple of words that mean a great deal to a Commons man. These words are not to be dealt with lightly. After the signal is given, and hastily eighteen husky men come trouncing down the stairway intent on the reprimanding of the one who gave the false alarm.

Everyone at Dummer knows the effect of these two words, and they are regarded as almost sacred. Cartoons have adorned our Archons in the glorious years now gone by. New students have not the pleasure of remembering how the "Teddy" Nashes, "Pep" Purintons, "Joe" Brocks, and "Itchy" Smalls of yore used to do this age old dash in better time than the world's record for handicap races.

There is no doubt in my mind that if I should visit any alumnus of Dummer, unawares of any approach, and yell, "Going in," he would jump up and yell back, "Hold 'em!" What a store of memories these immortal words would open up!

DUMMER LOSES TO NOBLE AND GREENOUGH

Dummer opened its track season at Dedham February 1st. Our inexperienced team finished on the small end of the score. The first event, the 40 yard dash was easily captured by Ferdinand of Dummer. He was also winner of the 300 yard run. His lead in the relay gave the rest of his team a handicap that Noble could not overcome. Ingham started his sprint too late in the 1000 and was only able to land third place. In the 600 Hinds was crowded on the track and thrown out of his stride and placed third. Ingham placed third in the high jump. In the shot put our performers were all shut out.
